Headline: September 2021 Spotlight - Bell Family Farm & Apiary

Polk City, FL - The Bell Family Farm & Apiary is a unique and private animal experience in lovely, rural Polk City. Quietly nestled against Florida's Green Swamp, the farm hosts a variety of unique, social and gentle farm animals, including miniature zebu, goats, pigs, and a variety of ducks and chickens. The Farm gives people of all ages a chance to interact with, pet, feed and just hang out with fun, friendly animals. Group tours are private—when you are on the farm, it is your time to relax, unplug, and enrich your lives. There are no large crowds and lines, just peace and quiet.

Starting soon, The Farm will be booking "Farmer for a Morning" programs in which guests, ages 13 and above (and adults too!), can spend the morning on the farm, preparing animal meals, grooming the animals, and helping with farm projects.

The Bell Family Farm & Apiary was established in 2020 and opened to the public in June of 2021. Owners Sarah and Ray Bell wanted to share their love of animals and educate and enrich peoples' lives. Both hail from the Northeast and always dreamed of living on and operating a farm.

"We wanted out of the urban rat race and into the quiet family farm life. When we finally made our dream a reality, we couldn't wait to share it with others, and show that it's a very achievable lifestyle if you work hard enough and keep your eyes on the prize," says Sarah. The farm also has a small, fast growing Apiary, or bee farm, and the bees are hard at work making their amazing "Wild Swamp Honey." Farm fresh eggs and honey will be available for purchase soon!

Hours of operation are Thursdays through Sundays, and private tours can be booked online at www.BellsMiniZebus.com or 863-984-0488. Schools, churches, temples, and clubs are encouraged to call to discuss our field trip programs.
